

Election Manifesto
of the
Credible Alternative 1st Movement
(CA1st)

“A Humane, Caring, Can-Do AND Entrepreneurial Cape Town”

What Made Me Do It?

South Africa is a unique nation in that a democratic Republic was struggled for and created for us to be united as a people in all our diversity, yet as the years go by, we find ourselves increasingly divided. This is particularly noticeable in our beautiful Cape Town.

As a civil society organization, the SA1st Forum, that empowered ordinary South Africans to get their voices back and relentlessly spoke out against those in authority, whether in local; provincial; or national government who abused their authority; were involved in corruption; provided shoddy services to our people; gave Capetonians DAY ZERO with the water crisis; hit Capetonians with high electricity and water surcharges; divided Capetonians even further; or treated citizens with disdain; we said.....

“ENOUGH IS ENOUGH!”.

What furthermore perturbed me was when I saw the candidates who the other key parties in Cape Town offered as potential mayors. I just saw white male candidates in a diverse and fractured City like Cape Town. That was it for me! Don't get me wrong, I have nothing against white males, but in this day and age, it is totally unacceptable that THIS was the best for Cape Town. I then put everything I planned to do with my life on hold and decided to enthuse other ordinary Capetonians to join me in stepping up to the plate and offer Capetonians a CREDIBLE ALTERNATIVE!

Capetonians had enough of being taken for granted and used as voting fodder to promote the interests of political parties. Many Capetonians lost hope in the current City Administration and many people feel that there are no other options. The seemingly deliberate inefficiencies of the current DA -led administration, steered by their elitism/ classism has left so many Capetonians frustrated and without the services they deserve. When Capetonians speak up, their pleas fall on deaf ears, or are met with bureaucratic or political jargon or indifference. This must come to an end and we as the Credible Alternative First Movement will see to that!

As we evolve from a values-based civil society organization, the #SA1stForum, into the Credible Alternative First Movement, we present our offering to the people of Cape Town in order to restore their dignity and provide them with the kind of services that they DESERVE! We also are resolute in a zero tolerance to corruption and an absolute priority to the poor and the middle class, whilst pushing back against the elements of classism that divide us as Capetonians.

To the people of Cape Town who have been waiting for another option and a trustworthy, honest, efficient and unbiased municipal approach, we say: You do not have to wait any longer.

As the Credible Alternative we wish to show that one can be in public office to serve the community with no need to be corrupt, arrogant or wanting to enrich yourself, family and friends.

In this Manifesto and our various policy offerings linked to this, we wish to indicate to Capetonians what we mean by a “Credible Alternative” and striving to be a ‘Humane, Caring; Can-Do Cape Town’.

Vote for CA1st on 1 November 2021 to enable us to show you what we can and will do.

Adv. Rod Solomons

Leader of the “Credible Alternative First Movement” and Mayoral Candidate for Cape Town.

Where we come from

In 2016, a small group of 15 individuals got together to say, “Enough is enough!”

- We could no longer stand by and allow corruption, looting, abuse of authority, and criminality in government to go on, unchecked and unchallenged.
- We could no longer stand by and watch political parties make a mockery of our democracy by putting party or party leaders before people and before constitution every time.
- We could no longer stomach the policies and processes of government, at all levels that served only to deepen inequality, rather than to reduce inequality.
- We could no longer stand the empty but inflammatory political rhetoric of politicians and political parties that served only to divide us as a South African nation from ourselves, and from others.

In response, we created the South Africa First Forum.

- Our rallying cry was “People First!” We put people, country and the constitution first, before party, and before class interest.
- We mobilized ordinary citizens against the corruption of then Jacob Zuma presidency and the criminal complicity of the ANC in state capture.
- We campaigned against the City of Cape Town’s handling of the water crisis, and the way they make services like electricity more expensive with tariffs.
- We campaigned against corruption and the deployment of incompetent and dishonest officials.
- We marched alongside like-minded people and organizations in protests against Gender Based Violence and Racism.
- We protested the criminal conspiracies in government that sought to weed out honest and competent civil servants, in order to clear the path for continued corruption and abuse of state office and resources.
- We called for more effective responses to deal with the Covid-19 pandemic.

And, through this, we grew the South Africa First Forum from 15 individuals to over 5,000 people, who have indicated that they want to be part of the change they want to see in South Africa.

Today, in 2021, after much reflection and consultation we have decided that it is not enough for us to stand outside of the formal political process, shouting, campaigning, protesting to be heard. We need to step up, and step into the Council Chamber, and ensure that the principle of People, Country and Constitution first, before party, is lived, seen, felt and heard in the Council Chambers of the City of Cape Town.

What sets us apart

- We commit to put the interests of the people of Cape Town first and not the interests of the party and its leaders.
- We are fielding credible candidates who are in it to be of service to people, the constitution and country.
- Our candidates are mandated to at all times serve in order to make a positive difference in the lives of our communities.
- Our candidates are not going to Council to get jobs for life, but to serve the people, as most already have their own careers.
- We are proud of the fact that many influential as well as ordinary members of our society are endorsing the CA1st as a possible governing entity of Cape Town.
- We offer credible solutions to the challenges facing the people of Cape Town. These solutions will focus on water, electricity, transport, trading and housing so that people are provided with the kind of services they DESERVE.
- Due to our track record from the #SA1stForum, we will uphold an absolute ZERO TOLERANCE approach to corruption and abuse of power that are underpinned by a Values Charter that is derived from the #SA1stForum.
- We fought corruption, incompetence and self-interest from the streets and will continue to do so from the benches of the Council Chambers.

Our Values

Our values are informed by, and directly derived from the Values Charter of the SA 1st Forum. They include:

Integrity

- Integrity means being honest, but even more than that, integrity means being true to who we are.
- As a movement we believe in People, Country and Constitution before Party, within our own movement and within government.
- We are committed to maintaining the highest degree of integrity as we campaign for election to the Council of the City of Cape Town.
- We are committed to maintaining the highest degree of integrity in our service to all citizens of the City of Cape Town, while pursuing our objectives.
- We do what we say and we say what we do.

Respect for people and for democracy

- In all our engagements with people, whether the general public or individuals from other parties whom we might differ from, we commit to being the alternative in language, behavior and conduct, and to be polite and respectful, even and especially when engagements become heated.
- We want, in word and deed, to be respectful of different perspectives and to engage in respectful dialogue.
- We seek and gain understanding and resolution of difference, not a deepening of divisions.
- We want to respect the institutions of democracy and contribute to building and deepening our hard-fought for democracy. We therefore also commit to changing the institutions and processes that do not serve our democratic ideals and the interests of the people of South Africa.

Commitment to human rights and dignity

- Our actions and activities will always be guided by an absolute commitment to advancing human rights as enshrined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, as well as the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa.
- As an extension of that principle, we believe that all individuals and organizations, including ourselves, should avoid causing any adverse effect on the human rights of people in the organizations we deal with, as well as the local and wider environments, and on the society at large. We remain aware of the impact of our conduct on others.

Diversity, Equity and Inclusion

- We acknowledge that there are many dimensions of diversity within Cape Town.
- While equality in South Africa is entrenched in our constitution, it alone does not make all South Africans equal. Our history of colonialism, slavery, imperialism and apartheid, has contrived together to make South Africa a very unequal society. The legacy of our unequal and racist past is present in the structural inequalities of our everyday lives, and the continued disenfranchisement of the poor, and the ongoing destabilization of the middle class, particularly Cape Town.
- Our current history is one in which governments have served the interests of certain individuals over the interests of their country, and have used the benefit of having seats in parliament and councils to advance their own interests over the interests of the people of this country and their constitution, which has resulted in contrived outcomes that continues to keep South Africa as very unequal society.
- The CA1st, like the South African Human Rights Commission, is concerned with the eradication of inequality and unfair discrimination, particularly based on race, gender, sex, disability, and sexual orientation, and our communication, decisions and actions are guided by this understanding of equality, as an aspiration that we must work towards. We believe that equality can only be achieved through a commitment to equity in policymaking that will result in re-defining the City's mandate, and in how that mandate is executed.

- Equity is about accepting the principle that all Capetonians, regardless of their varied dimensions of difference should be able to access opportunities for them to realize their full potential as individuals and communities. A commitment to equity in local government is recognition that people who are economically, politically and historically disenfranchised do not have the same access to opportunity as people who are/were not.
- A commitment to equity is about giving individuals and communities a hand-up to achieve equality. The CA1st is committed to equity in thought, word and deed in local government.
- Inclusion is about doing all that we can to ensure that all dimensions of diversity can participate in defining what it means to have a city that works for all. Inclusion in local government is about making sure that the people of Cape Town have a say in what the city should be doing for them today, and in the future.
- Besides dealing with diversity through equity and inclusion, it also makes economic sense to create the conditions for all citizens to reach their full potential, because the growth and development of the City will benefit from citizens that function at their full potential.

Ethicality

- We recognize that our entry into the formal political realm is fraught with the danger of being subsumed within the cauldron of corruption and self-interest that we have decried in our formal body politic for so many years.
- For that reason, we demand of every representative of the CA1st to conduct themselves and hold themselves to account to the highest levels of truth, fairness and honesty and to always do what is right and justified by our values.
- We reject all forms of dishonesty.

Who we are

- We remain an activist organization, committed to bringing about change to create a city administration that truly works for all Capetonians, in particular the poor and the middle-class and not just a small percentage of well-off Capetonians.
- We are a people-centered organization that subscribes to the principle that South Africa belongs to all who live in it, and therefore do not want to turn parts of Cape Town into enclaves of privilege which are protected from sharing access to that privilege with the rest of Cape Town.
- We are anti-racist. This means that in word or deed, Credible Alternative 1st will oppose any and all forms of racial prejudice, systemic racism, and the oppression of specific racial groups. We will vigorously oppose racists and racism wherever they surface, and we will encourage non-racists to emerge from a tacit acceptance of racism to an active opposition to racism.
- We are committed to restorative memory and restorative justice. We recognize that colonial and Apartheid race theories and practices have severely crippled our society and that South Africa is in urgent need of healing in its human relationships, based on an honest evaluation of legacies of dispossession, where restorative memory and restorative justice is closely bound up.
- We unreservedly seek redress of historical and present-day social inequality. The realities of Apartheid divisions and ghettoization of certain communities have persisted throughout our 27-year history. It is manifested in the marginalization of and discrimination against poorer sections of persons of color.

- In addition, the living conditions pertaining to the sprawling Cape Flats compared to the Atlantic seaboard and part of the Southern and Northern Suburbs is blight on our commitment to justice and equality. This constitutes a 'tale of two Cities' – rich and poor. This is wholly unacceptable to the CA1st.
- We view political office as public service, in which the only interests that matter are the interests of the constituents we serve and the mandates of the Constitution. We do not and will not field candidates whose only interest is in earning a salary from the public bourse. We cannot, and will not support individuals, who seek to use public office as a means to, or steppingstone to, self-enrichment. We exist only to give voice to those Capetonians, whose voices are often not heard, and when heard, are often ignored.

What we want to do

Transform the business model

- It is admirable that the City of Cape Town is able to achieve clean audits year on year and balance its budget. It is particularly so, because most municipalities across the length and breadth of South Africa, find it impossible to emulate this model of good financial governance.
- However, what is also clear is that good financial governance has not addressed the fundamental inequalities of rich and poor in Cape Town. It is also clear that good financial governance has not addressed the marginalization and racial ghettoization of up to 80% of our Cape Town population. Good financial governance has also not prevented the increasing precariousness in which the poor and dwindling middle class finds itself in.
- We need a new business model for the City of Cape Town that builds on a history of good financial governance of the City, but which is transformative, with a specific focus on addressing inequality, and on breaking down the legacy of racial marginalization and ghettoization and on providing a stable economic environment for all the people of Cape Town to thrive.
- Therefore, within that business model, there needs to be a reprioritization that allows for a balanced and equitable approach to financial investment, resources allocation, services allocation, and opportunity allocation, to meet the needs of the diverse population that inhabits Cape Town, the majority who are ravaged by joblessness and significant increases in the cost of living.

We will put all our energies into ensuring that:

- The City of Cape Town officials and councilors understand and internalize that the City is a service organization and not a corporate citizen out to make a profit.
- The City provides its ratepayers with the services they DESERVE and not those that the City administration thinks they must get.
- The CA1st will engage Planners, Financial Analysts, Local Government experts and other relevant professionals, as well as Councilors from other parties about the building of an alternative business model that has redress of historical and present-day inequality and prosperity for all at its core.

Provide decent housing

- Decent, affordable housing for everyone is a right and not a privilege. This is the departure point for the CA1st as we take our people-first activism from the streets into the City of Cape Town's Council chambers.
- For us, the provision of housing is much more than just putting a roof over someone's head. The provision of housing must ensure that people are able to live a dignified life in an environment that allows people to grow and flourish, with work, education, recreation and worship opportunities for all, and with access to basic services, such as water, electricity, sewage, transport and safety.
- The provision of housing is therefore one of the biggest issues for the CA1st because through it, we live our value of human rights and dignity, and it drives the provision of services, which must be at the core of the City's value proposition to its citizens. It is even more so because of broken promises made by unscrupulous politicians about providing housing for the homeless poor and the backyard dwellers, whose numbers continue to grow, even as the promises continue to be broken.
- The CA1st commits itself to finding out what the plans are and sharing these with the people of Cape Town. We want to review the housing lists and unlock the bureaucratic issues that continue to frustrate the efforts of Capetonians who desire only to have a roof over the heads. We want to understand and unlock the bottlenecks which prevent housing delivery and unravel the complexity of the dependency of bulk services, such as water, or sewage, or electricity. We will take the people of Cape Town into our confidence and share all information related to this crucial subject, as we do the work.
- We commit to annually spending the budgets allocated by National Treasury for basic services such as housing, transport, water and sewerage in an open and transparent manner and not to return these funds as unspent to national treasury.

Our environment and cleanliness

- We understand the importance of safeguarding our open spaces and natural environment. We believe strongly that the quality of our water, air and soil must be prioritized by the City of Cape Town.
- Failing infrastructure and the and totally inadequate spatial planning when it comes to the provision of housing resulting in overcrowding has led to the current rampant pollution of our environment.
- Poor sewage infrastructure maintenance has led to unacceptably high ecoli levels found in our vlei's, wetlands and beaches.
- The CA1st is fully aware that misuse and poisoning of agricultural land creates food scarcity and ill-health. We are totally opposed to the appeasement of developers who put our aquifers under threat for financial gain.
- Many parts of Cape Town are unbelievably dirty and filthy. We are firmly of the view that a City Administration must provide equitable cleaning services with a bias towards poorer areas where dirt and filth is a perennial problem.

Provide affordable services

- The CA1st acknowledges that the City needs to collect revenue to be sustainable, and to sustainably fund the development of the City. However, we are also painfully aware that the cost of basic services, such as water and electricity and sewage removal, has been creeping steadily upwards. These have no to little effect on the upper middle class and the wealthy, but they impact significantly on the vast majority of working poor, unemployed and the increasingly precarious lower middle class in Cape Town.
- The cost of these services speaks very directly to how the City generates revenue and what it spends that money on. For that reason, the CA1st commits itself to an intensive analysis of the City's budget, with a view to shifting the priorities more sharply towards redress of inequality and future prosperity, than simply to balancing the budget.

Be the Engine of Transformation

- If Cape Town continues to grow at the rate that the United Nations expects cities to grow over the next 30 years, the 4.6 million Capetonians will grow to close to 7 million Capetonians by 2050, and the numbers of unemployed and homeless and working poor will continue to grow.
- The city is both the problem and the solution. Intelligent leadership will understand how these two issues are harnessed to build a successful, inclusive and prosperous 21st century city for all its residents.
- If the Cape Town City Council continues to be managed in the way that it currently is, the only areas of growth for that additional 2.4 million people will be in slums and ghettos. There is not enough housing to accommodate the current population, and not enough planned housing to accommodate the expected increase in population. There are not enough work opportunities to enable those who are looking to work, and there is not enough economic development to accommodate those who are still to come, who will seek work in this city. That is the current City Council's problem!
- If the City Council is to become the solution, it needs to recognize that the building of housing, the development of roads and infrastructure and the provision of services, the production of green energy, and effective waste management are themselves both productive activities, that will provide employment opportunities and individual growth, but are also investments in the city of the future that works for all.
- If the City Council of Cape Town is to become the solution, it needs to recognize that the land that it owns and disposes of for short-term revenue generation, are assets that, if they were developed by the City Council, could create sustainable revenue to the Council, for the benefit of all its citizens into perpetuity.
- If the City Council is to become the solution, it needs to more aggressively pursue the creation of an environment that encourages large enterprises to create work opportunities here, and, at the same time, enables small businesses and entrepreneurs to get off the ground; thrive and be sustainable.

- The City of Cape Town has the potential to be the engine of transformation of itself. Yet, there is nothing in what it is currently saying or doing that informs Capetonians of that vision, and nothing that invites Capetonians from all walks of life to be a part of it. The CA1st has the vision of Cape Town being the engine of transformation in every Capetonian's mind, on every Capetonian's lips, and in every Capetonian's heart. We will put all our energies into advancing the narrative of Cape Town's being a humane, caring, and entrepreneurial City that has the interests of all its citizens at heart and treats everyone with respect and actively push back against this ugly divide that is taking root in Cape Town.

Equality and safety of Women

- Women have a right to equality in all spheres of life. This means nothing if it is not actively fought for, and for all forms of gender prejudice and gender oppression, including systemic gender oppression to be identified and weeded out.
- The scourge of South African society remains gender-based violence, and the combating and elimination of gender based violence is a prerequisite to the ongoing pursuit of equality of women, and equity for women in all spheres of life. The CA1st commits itself to utilize the resources of the City to combat gender based violence on the one hand, but also to provide shelter and security to women and girls who are the victims of such gender based violence.

Encourage Entrepreneurism

- The CA1st will make it easier for entrepreneurs and business owners to operate businesses within the City of Cape Town in order to address the spiraling youth unemployment rate and make it easier for families and informal traders to earn a living.
- We believe in a blended and integrated economic model, where entrepreneurs as well as established businesses, and large, small, medium and micro enterprises can all share trading spaces with the ultimate goal of making Cape Town a vibrant trading hub for all and where formal and informal economies have equitable market share and share in the revenue streams, that will result in stronger local communities.
- We want to create the opportunities for supply chains to emanate from diverse local sources, believing that we have sufficient capacity to use local resourcefulness as supply chains for the Cape Town economy. We want both government and the private sector to use local supply chains for their requirements.

Sport, Recreation, Arts and Culture

- The CA1st will make it easier for sport and cultural bodies to use underutilized spaces owned by the City of Cape Town for recreational and cultural endeavor.
- We wish for Cape Town to be a vibrant cultural city where the City of Cape Town facilitates the unleashing of the unique creative talents & endeavors of those in the arts and culture sphere. We wish for cultural activity to take a central stage in community life and the benefits of partaking in arts & culture be fully harnessed for the benefit of us all. When visitors think of Cape Town they must say, "wow those people have talent & it's a vibrant melting pot of cultural expression". The City of Cape Town must play a facilitating & harnessing role but in a less bureaucratic way in order to unleash the contribution of the arts to human well-being, social transformation and economic growth of Cape Town.

- As President Mandela said "Sport has the power to inspire. It has the power to unite people in a way that little else does. It speaks to youth in a language they understand. Sport can create hope where once there was only despair" Hence as CA1st we recognize the integral role that Sport and the Arts and Culture has played in community life and wish to harness it better.
- Time and time again our communities have produced highly talented sports people from successful run community-based sport clubs. Through these clubs, sport has played a critical role in addressing social challenges in communities. The closing down of the Department of Sport and Recreation by the City of Cape Town was a cardinal error made by politicians and officials who do not understand the role and value of sports clubs in communities. We will re-instate this department to play an enabling role and ensure that community-based sport rises to its former glory.

- 4 People will get the services they DESERVE not what the City Officials or Politicians think they must get.
